BLAIR MEANLEY TO HANDLE IDLEWOOD

Mr. Blair Meanley has accepted the position of manager of Idlewood Park for the season. His experience in the show business and his general popularity, it is believed by the owners of the park, will hold him in good stead, and he has already started to make many improvements to the place. The burned territory is being rapidly replaced, the Natatorium in its new dress being open to the view of all visitors to the park, and the other attractions there will be repainted and put into attractive shape. The season will probably open about the middle of the month, and the management promises the people of Richmond one of the finest amusement resorts of the kind in the country. Mr. Meanley will have a competent staff of assistants around him.

STEAMER DORA ON FALSE CAPE SANDS

British Vessel Loses Her Way in Rain and Fog—Rescue Pulls Her Off.

SEVERAL PASSENGERS HURT

Engineer of the Columbia Was Unconscious from Naphtha Fumes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., May 4.—The British steamer Dora stranded at 3:30 o'clock this morning south of False Cape Life-Saving Station, and twenty-two miles south of Cape Henry. The vessel, bound for Baltimore, loaded with asphalt, lost her course in rain and fog. Life-savers boarded the Dora and got her afloat, apparently uninjured, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rendered unconscious by naphtha fumes, William Jacobs, engineer of the launch Columbia, failed to answer bell signals as the vessel was entering the Company's slip at the foot of West Main Street, and, as a result, the boat crashed into the dock, badly damaging her bow and slightly injuring a passenger. The accident occurred last night as the launch was returning from a trip to Port Norfolk. Captain Jones, in charge of the craft, gave the proper signals as the boat neared her landing point; these were unanswered, and the bow of the launch drove into the bulkhead. One of the passengers, a woman, was thrown to the floor of the cabin by the shock and sustained a scalp wound, while the bow of the boat was badly crumpled by the impact.

SENATOR MARTIN HOME.

Returns With Wife and They Hurry On to Smithfield. [From Our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Senator and Mrs. Martin slipped through Washington yesterday. They landed in New York Thursday. They hurried on to Smithfield, Va., where their two little children have been staying with their grandparents, Colonel and Mrs. Fenton Day. Few of the Senator's friends knew of his presence in the city to-day. It is learned that Mrs. Martin, whose poor health made the foreign tour necessary, is much improved.
